size and richness of architecture any similar establishment in the United States, if not in the world.

The New York Mercantile Advertiser of a late date says—certainly Degeester has brought in a lot of diamonds from the mines, and a part of the money stipulated for the French Treaty of Commerce.

A French section of the Richmond and Fredericksburg rail road has just been completed and brought into use. The road is now in operation from Richmond to within five miles of Bowling Green.

The New York Journal continues: travellers from the French mines have been seen to employ them to convey their baggage from the boats. The editor says, "they should never have been brought to the United States, but at least for lodging—for a set of lead pipes are constantly on the watch to plunder or imitate."

papers quote brief at four to eight cents a pound of wool, ten to twelve cents—gone from twenty-five to thirty cents a pound, a 50 per cent drop in proportion. At this rate a person might live a week at Wheeling for about the same sum that it would cost him to get a dinner in the city—A. J. Condon.

The Schenectady and Utica rail road, which was opened a few days ago for travel, works to the benefit of the wool trade, and is the chief support of it. The passage tonight received on the 10th of Sunday last is estimated by the Albany Commercial Advertiser to be worth $100,000. On Monday a party from Albany, including the Vice President and several of the State and Federal officers, left at six in the morning, breakfasted at the Hotel de Ville, and returned at Albany between 3 and 4 o'clock at night, having made the extension of the trip in the morning, and returned in the evening, without any fatigue, and within 12 hours running time.

were ten yards of oiled silk, which was bought and taken with other articles upon their consignment. On Friday last, a Turkish strong soldier was employed in the store, was made to open every direction to dismember the cargo, but vain, and the soldier continued to increase. In the afternoon, the Turkish soldiers came to the packing the goods, a piece of bombazine, containing from 10 to 20 yards, was found to be very much damaged by the Turkish soldiers, as to the cause. Upon examination it was found to have been lying upon the package of oiled silk, and the damage was caused as is supposed by the pressure of the package upon it. It is the belief of the management of the store, that the Turkish soldier would have been ignited. Had this occurred in the night, it doubtless would have resulted in a fire, and the goods would have been lost. In the store, comprising a stock of more than £100,000.

Trouble in Jerusalem.—It appears from the Austrian Osteerer, of the 14th June, which contains intelligence from Ryma of the 7th, that the situation in Jerusalem has become very serious during the last few days previous, and that some tumultuous excesses were committed which have increased with great rapidity. It appears that the state of this city, and of Palestine generally, is very deplorable; anarchy, robbery, and murder, are everywhere rampant beyond the dead sea, vagabonds, criminals, deserters, and refractory conscripts, have collected in numbers amounting to nearly 15,000. The population of Jerusalem therefore said to reimburse the border which haunted the cave of Abilene during the flight of David, that it, composed of the most miserable, destitute and disaffected of the whole land. They have a good supply of arms, ammunition, provisions and horses, and it is thought almost impossible to dislodge them.—A. T. Sm.
